ADVENTURES IN SPACE AND

Library & Information Week 17–23 May 2021

Social media guide

The purpose of this guide is to assist you to run a successful Library and Information Week 2021 social media campaign and to promote your library. Running a successful social media campaign will help you to gain attention for your library services, attract more attendees to your library events and increase overall attention for the LIS industry.

Follow these simple steps to run your social media campaign:

- Schedule the text (with associated collateral; free resources can be found at alia.org.au/liw2021-resources) in the seven-day lead-up to Library and Information Week 2021 and during the week
- Tag and/or email ALIA about your events and displays so we can promote your library

Any questions or suggestions can be directed to media@alia.org.au.

Social media tips

Make sure to tag relevant guests and organisations and that these tags may change between social media platforms. The tag for ALIA is @ALIANational and the hashtags for Library and Information Week are #LIW2021, #LibTechDay, #LISCareers, #NSS2021.

We recommend that any additional hashtags use capitalisation at the beginning of each word, for example #MediaLiteracy.You can shorten links using websites such as Bitly to conserve characters on Twitter.

You can schedule posts in advance using the in-built Creator Studio on Facebook, and via Tweetdeck which links to Twitter. Your library may already have a social media scheduler in use such as Hootsuite, or Buffer.

Additionally, on Twitter and Facebook you can 'pin' posts to the top of the feed by clicking on the three dots in the top right hand of each post and selecting 'pin post'. This option is only available for posts your account has made. Further information and collateral can be found on the ALIA website: alia.org.au/liw2021-resources.
